

SOX CONQUER MATTY; CHASE HURTS ANKLE

Had Puts Himself Out of Game While Making One of His Grand Stand Plays.

TEAMS BATTLE FOR BLOOD

Pierce Slide Results in Loss of six Inches of Skin Off Wahoo Sam Crawford.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 25.—With the eighth inning of the Chicago White Sox world series game today by a score of 4 to 3. The fall of Matty made the victory, however, cost the Sox dearly, as Chase was put out of the game in the eighth inning with a twisted ankle after he had made one of those sensational grand stand plays known to New York fans as "the slide." The slide was a desperate one, as the Sox were in a desperate pinch, and the slide was made with a desperate effort. The slide was made with a desperate effort, and the slide was made with a desperate effort.

SWIMMER, BOUND, WILL TRY TO TUG BOATLOAD

Elionsky Will Attempt to Be Motive Power for Five in Odd Feet.

Buster Elionsky, a nineteen-year-old, 245 pound comely of the New London branch of the American Life Saving Society, will attempt to swim next Sunday morning from Brooklyn Bridge, while pulling a boat holding five passengers, with his hands and feet manacled. This feat if accomplished will eclipse by far his previous record of a few weeks ago, when he swam from the Battery to Norton's Point handcuffed and anklebound, a distance of thirteen miles, in 5 hours 31 minutes.

The aquatic Hercules has developed a stroke not unlike that of a dolphin. As the tide will be with him it is more than probable that the half ton weight of the man and his manacles will not retard his speed except in eddies, where the going will be dangerous if the extreme.

Elionsky has been cautious enough to keep out of the water until the tide is among the farthest long distance swimmers. At Brown, the first man to swim from the Battery to Sandy Hook, openly accused Elionsky of cheating, claiming that he had used a life preserver. Elionsky has made no statement as yet, and hardly will until spring, as the water is too cold for ordinary swimmers to swim in. Elionsky isn't an ordinary swimmer. Elionsky claims a long distance championship. He has swum for 15 hours 20 minutes without nourishment.

MAPLE LEAF REAL TROUBLE

So Says Joe Van Blerck, Who Sees Little Hope for Challenger.

Joe Van Blerck has been about this week on business and is optimistic about the season. He is building a fine big factory at Mount Airy, Mich., thirty miles from Detroit, and already is making contracts for engines for next season's boats.

When asked if he had heard of an American challenger for the British international trophy he said he did not believe that there would be a challenger for some time. He did not think that the trouble is the Maple Leaf IV, and that building a boat to beat it is a tremendous one.

Small Balance for Athletics.

Columbia's athletic teams pulled through financially last year with a balance of $294.14, according to the annual report of the athletic association, which was made public yesterday. Practically every team had to sail pretty close to the wind, and all excepting the varsity basketball, freshman baseball, freshman track and freshman lawn tennis teams fell behind in their receipts and had to be helped out by contributions to the association.

SCOTT LOWERS FORMER MARK.

Veteran Pedestrian Walks to Philadelphia in Fast Time.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 25.—Walking ten hours in a slight drizzle and more than eleven hours in a driving rainstorm, John H. Scott, the veteran pedestrian of the Southwestern Athletic Club, arrived at the City Hall this morning after walking from New York to Philadelphia.

Scott left the City Hall in New York yesterday morning at 9:30 A. M., being sent on his way by Mayor Kline of New York and Charles D. Diogenes, president of the Timbers Club, and was received at the City Hall here at 6:59 this morning by T. H. Kearney, representing the Middle Atlantic Association of the A. A. U. This made Scott's time for the walk 21 hours and 29 minutes, against his previous record of 21 hours, 35 minutes and 10 seconds.

Scott was accompanied from New York by H. J. Ketchy, who walked with him to New Brunswick. At New Brunswick his son Leon took up the walk. The distance from New York to Philadelphia by rail is ninety miles and by road it is estimated at between 100 and 102 miles.

COMPETE FOR COLUMBIA ONLY.

Athletes Barred From Club Competition During College Year.

Athletes on teams at Columbia University and candidates for all such teams will henceforth be barred from participating in all non-collegiate contests while Columbia is in session. This is the announcement that was made yesterday by the Columbia University committee on athletics. In putting the ban on students who have at the same time been members of various local athletic clubs, the committee is aiming at the elimination of competing with those teams, except at the peril of being disqualified from the college team, during the college year.

The ban is aimed at the particular evil, however, and henceforth such men as Tony Zink, crack middle distance man five years ago, George Hoynes, a fast mile runner, and a few others, who have been members of the local club teams, will be barred from competing with those teams, except at the peril of being disqualified from the college team, during the college year.

SHUGRUE TOYS WITH ROBBIDEAU

New York Fighter Surprises Philadelphia by Gaining Easy Victory.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 25.—Joe Shugrue of New York to-night took five of the six rounds in a bout with Sam Robbideau at the National A. C. The New York boy was so much more powerful than the Philadelphia fighter, who was unable to take the fight, that he was simply looking for the decision and eased up in the sixth round.

Shugrue proved that he is a two handed fighter, using either hand apparently with equal effect. The favorite, the New York boy was a left jab to the nose, followed by a right swing to the head. He appeared to telegraph every move he made, but he was so much more powerful than the Philadelphia fighter, who was unable to take the fight, that he was simply looking for the decision and eased up in the sixth round.

Rutgers Outplays Rensselaer Poly.

THIRTY, N. Y., Oct. 25.—Rutgers defeated Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute in a football game yesterday afternoon by the score of 13 to 0. The visitors outplayed the students in all departments of the game and won easily.

The Rutgers team was led by their star player, a fullback named Shugrue, who was a left jab to the nose, followed by a right swing to the head. He appeared to telegraph every move he made, but he was so much more powerful than the Philadelphia fighter, who was unable to take the fight, that he was simply looking for the decision and eased up in the sixth round.

FARRELL TALKS OF PLAYERS' DEMANDS

Favors Unconditional Release of Players Who Serve Ten Years in Majors.

OTHER POINTS HAVE MERIT

Work of Ketchy and Merkle Compared—Why Jake Stahl Was Turned Out.

"With two or three exceptions the demands of the baseball players are entirely reasonable," said President Frank J. Farrell of the New Yorks yesterday. "Our clubs do not charge the players for their uniforms and all of their expenses incurred during the Southern training trips are paid by us. Personally I am in favor of granting an unconditional release to a player who has been in the major league for a period of ten years. I do not believe that such a man should be railroaded to the minor leagues after playing that long in fast company."

Farrell, it will be remembered, released Willie Keeler outright when it was no longer possible for him to play up to the necessary standard. It would have been extremely unfair to have sent him to some minor league club against his will. He didn't deserve such treatment. For this reason I believe that the franchise's demand that ten year men be entitled to be released is entirely reasonable. The same thing applies to the Class AA leagues, which have held players for twelve years.

"The request that players purchased or drafted by one league and then sent down to another league should be sent back to their original employers without first being subject to waivers through the intermediary league has some merit. If it is granted the practice of covering up players would be practically nullified and the players themselves might be benefited, but of course I do not know how this point will be considered by organized baseball."

Farrell said the other day that McGraw never favored a trade involving Merkle and Ed Ketchy even up to the time the Giants' leader believed that Merkle was a more valuable player. The records of these crack bats basemen for the last seven campaigns, therefore, are interesting. Here they are:
